A good news visit for MP to company on the up ...

DAVE Watts MP declared "there is still good news out there despite the recession" after visiting a St Helens firm that's on the up.

The MP for St Helens North paid a visit to Sollertia Ltd in Newton-le-Willows recently and told staff "it's not all doom and gloom".

Sollertia, an outsourced accounting specialist, is run by management accountancy expert Andrew Mault.

Mr Mault said: "We are the finance department for our clients and make sure that the financial data, reports and advice they require to run a successful business is available on demand

"Our robust financial reporting combined with strategic management support and consultancy means our clients always know exactly where they stand in relation to accounting and finance.

"We believe that is why all our clients continue to do well and will see this recession through. We make sure there are no surprises awaiting them in their finances. If there are potential problems that need to be addressed we make sure the client is aware of them well in advance."
